

The Virtual Pillow Case Project

Learn. Practice. Share.

The Virtual Pillowcase Project is our signature youth disaster preparedness program designed for youth in grades 3-5 through a 40-minute interactive presentation.

The program offers free education in personal and family preparedness for region-specific hazards.

All attendees will receive instructions on how to design a pillowcase kit, starting with a regular pillowcase where students can use their creativity while home; how to build a personal preparedness kit; and a digital workbook filled with a variety of preparedness and safety resources.

After the presentation, children have 10 minutes to complete a 5-question survey to capture how students understand the information.

The American Red Cross has presented this FREE educational program to over 1,000,000 children nationwide.

REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED

For more information, please contact Olga Wallace at Olga.Wallace@redcross.org.

American Red Cross
Greater New York Region